

EASL meetings- Abstract submission information

Types of presentations

All accepted abstracts submitted in this format (abstract /late-breaker abstract) will be either presented as:

- 1) An oral presentation or
- 2) An ePoster presentation (which upon selection can also be included as an oral ePoster session)

Abstract submission fees

Abstract submission for all EASL meetings (except for ILC) is free of charge.

Abstract changes

- All changes can be made by the abstract submitter until the abstract submission deadline of the respective meeting
- After the abstract submission deadline, only the presenting author can be changed until 3 weeks prior the event start date

Abstract withdrawals

- After you submitted your abstract, requests for withdrawal of an abstract must be received in writing to abstracts@easloffice.eu latest until that abstract submission deadline of the given EASL meeting
- Any withdrawal requested after the abstract submission deadline of the given EASL meeting will not be considered and the abstract will be published

Abstract disclosures (COI and off label products)

- Conflict of interest: For each author, any relevant financial relationship with the provider of commercial products or services discussed in their educational presentation or that have directly supported the CME activity through an educational grant to the sponsoring organization(s).
- Off label products: If the product, that is discussed in the abstract, is not labelled for the use under discussion or that the product is still investigational.

Note: The intent of disclosure is not to prevent a participant with financial or other relationships from making a presentation, but rather to provide participants with adequate information about the relationship(s).

Embargo policy

All abstracts will be available publicly on the corresponding meeting webpage, under the abstract section, 2 weeks prior to the event.

The information contained in the abstracts accepted for the given event will be under embargo until the release on the webpage two weeks prior to the event.

Please refer to the online scientific programme of the corresponding EASL meeting for exact details.

Note: Violation of this policy will be taken seriously. Individuals and/or sponsors who violate it may face sanctions relating to current and future abstract submissions, presentations and visibility at any EASL event. The EASL Governing Board is at liberty to ban attendance and/or retract data.

Copyrights

By submitting an abstract to an EASL event you agree with the following statement:

"I hereby assign all copyrights to the European Association for the Study of the Liver (EASL), for the abstract submitted to the "relevant EASL meeting name" (government authors not electing to transfer, agree to assign an exclusive publishing and distribution license) and any supplemental tables, illustrations or other information submitted therewith that are intended for publication as part of the abstract in all forms and media (whether now known or hereafter developed), throughout the world, in all languages, for the full term of copyright, effective when, and if, the article is accepted for publication. This transfer includes the right to provide the abstract in electronic and online forms and systems."

Copyrights related to abstract data made available on the website and in the printed material resides with the respective authors.

No reproduction, re-use or transcription for any commercial purpose or use of the content is permitted without the written permission of the authors. Permission for re-use must be obtained directly from the author.

Note: Violation of this policy will be taken seriously. Individuals and/or sponsors who violate it may face sanctions relating to current and future abstract submissions, presentations and visibility at any EASL event. The EASL Governing Board is at liberty to ban attendance and/or retract data.
