

Do you have lived experience with steatotic liver disease or advocate for those who do? Are you committed to improving the future of liver health?

Applications are now open for the Dr. Stephen A. Harrison Patient Advocacy Fellowship, a first-of-its-kind program that supports and trains patient advocates across the United Kingdom, North America, and the European Union.

Whether you are living with MASLD, MASH, ALD, or MetALD, or advocating on behalf of affected individuals to advance drug and diagnostic development, this Fellowship is designed to equip you with the tools to drive change.

Who should apply?

- Individuals with firsthand experience with MASLD, MASH, ALD, or MetALD
- Emerging or experienced patient advocates
- Care partners, caregivers, and community leaders using their voice to influence research, policy, drug and diagnostic development, and care

What will Fellows receive?

Training, mentorship, and support to participate in scientific meetings, clinical advisory panels, and public policy efforts.

Deadline to apply: July 14, 2025

Visit www.harrisonfellows.org to learn more and submit your application. Please share widely with anyone who may be eligible.